FOREWORD

I am delighted to present to you this Teacher's Guide, which is developed by the Ministry of General Education and Instruction based on the new South Sudan National Curriculum. The National Curriculum is a learner-centered curriculum that aims to meet the needs and aspirations of the new nation. In particular, it aims to develop (a) good citizens; (b) successful lifelong learners; (c) creative, active and productive individuals; and (d) environmentally responsible members of our society. This textbook, like many others, has been designed to contribute to achievement of these noble aims. It has been developed and edited thoroughly by our National Language writing teams and is deemed to be fit for the purpose. It has been recommended to me for approval. Therefore, I hereby grant my approval. This Teacher's Guide shall be used to facilitate learning for learners in all schools of the Republic of South Sudan, except international schools, with effect from 4th February 2019.

I am deeply grateful to the staff of the Ministry of General Education and Instruction, especially Mr Michael Lopuke Lotyam Longolio, the Undersecretary of the Ministry, the staff of the Curriculum Development Centre, under the supervision of Mr Omot Okony Olok, the Director General for Quality Assurance and Standards, Mr. Moses Mading Marial, the Director General for the National and Foreign Languages Centre, for providing guidance throughout the process of the development of the National Languages curriculum and school textbooks for the Republic of South Sudan since 2013. I wish to thank UNICEF South Sudan for managing the project funded by the Global Partnership in Education so well and funding the development of the National Curriculum and the new textbooks. I thank SIL South Sudan for working closely with the Ministry, the National Languages Writers, UNICEF and the Curriculum Foundation UK to write the new textbooks. I also wish to thank the team at Dreamiles Artworks for creating the beautiful South Sudanese illustrations in the books. Finally, I thank the former Ministers of Education, Hon. Joseph Ukel Abango and Hon. Dr John Gai Nyuot Yoh, for supporting me, in my previous role as the Undersecretary of the Ministry, to lead the Technical Committee to develop and complete the consultations on the new National Curriculum Framework by 29 November 2013.

The Ministry of General Education and Instruction, Republic of South Sudan, is most grateful to all these key stakeholders for their overwhelming support to the design and development of this historic South Sudan National Curriculum. This historic reform in South Sudan's education system is intended to benefit the people of South Sudan, especially the children and youth and the future generations. It shall enhance the quality of education in the country to promote peace, justice, liberty and prosperity for all. I urge all Teachers to put this textbook to good use.

May God bless South Sudan. May He help our Teachers to inspire, educate and transform the lives of all the children and youth of South Sudan.

Deng Deng Hoc Yai, (Hon.)

Minister of General Education and Instruction, Republic of South Sudan

Rationale for National Languages:

South Sudan’s education policy supports South Sudan’s rich multilingual environment, recognizing each of South Sudan’s languages as “National Languages”, and allowing for each language to be respected, developed and promoted.

The language and education policy in the Education Act, says that learning should begin in the language that the learners are most familiar with: their own home language / mother tongue / National Language. Thus, the medium of instruction for P1 – P3 is the National Language which is selected by the school.

Language is fundamental to communication. Communication is fundamental to learning. It is essential that young learners begin to communicate through the reading and writing first in their own national language before transferring those skills to literacy in additional languages such as English.

Thus, learning in the National Languages subject is focused on four main areas of communication: speaking, listening, reading and writing. Research and evidence from both South Sudan and around the world have shown that the knowledge, skills and attitudes developed in these areas in the language the child speaks and understands best form the foundation for life long learning—even learning in additional languages such as English. Therefore, the emphasis of learning in P1 – P3 is on communication and building the skills that can be transferred to learning in English in P4.

National Languages makes an important contribution to the four framework competencies (Co-operation, Culture and Identity, Communication, Critical and Creative Thinking). First and foremost, communication, which is the purpose of language, is developed. Abilities in language then form the basis for critical and creative thinking, providing the tools for thought and imagination. Language also allows for cooperation with others, allowing them to exchange thoughts and ideas with people within their school, communities and beyond. Additionally, language, culture and identity are intertwined; national languages are gateways to a national culture.

Key Features of Teaching National Languages to Young Children:

Practical Contexts

Children develop their abilities in any language by using it in practical contexts. The four strands, speaking, listening, reading and writing, are best practiced in real situations, where learners communicate with others for a purpose.

Learners should be given as many opportunities as possible to express their ideas, ask and answer questions, explain what they are doing and join discussions and conversations. Context for communication can be provided through role-play and drama. Being able to express themselves through speaking, and listening attentively to others, is an essential step towards developing their writing abilities.

Young children should be encouraged to communicate in writing, even when their attempts may look like “scribbles”. This is an important part of the development of the necessary fine motor control which will lead to formal writing.

Young learners also need to be exposed to familiar and enjoyable stories and books, and the opportunity to talk about and express their ideas about what they find in them. They need to be encouraged to engage with stories and different types of texts, interacting with the characters, information and meaning they find in the text.

Teacher as a model

In all of these areas, the teacher is the model for the development of speaking, listening, reading and writing. When reading a text out loud for the class, teachers should read the text with expression, ensuring the story comes to life for the listeners, and using expression to help learner's understanding of the story. Before reading a story, ask learners what they expect to hear in the story, based on the title or any illustrations.

As the teacher is reading the story, stop at interesting parts of the story to talk about thoughts and questions related to the text. Ask questions that help the learner to connect the story they are listening to with their own experience or with other stories they have heard. Examples of questions might be,

- How would that make you feel?
- That surprised me! Did that surprise you?
- What would you have done if you were in the situation?
- Have you experienced something similar before?

While reading, the teacher can also stop to ask questions to help learners develop their skills in prediction and using clues from the text to engage more with the story. For example, before the climax of the story, the teacher can stop to ask the learners, "What do you think will come next?"

After reading the text, ask the learners what they thought about the story. Examples of questions might be:

- Did it have a surprising or unexpected ending?
- How did it make you feel?

When writing words and texts, the teacher needs to model good writing habits, forming letters correctly and using appropriate language to express thoughts and ideas, showing enthusiasm and enjoyment in using the National Language for written communication.

Learning Environment for National Languages

In the National Languages classroom, learners will be developing their language in four areas: speaking, listening, reading and writing. The class environment needs to reflect these language development areas and give learners opportunities to be immersed in an environment which encourages them to speak, listen, read and write.

A National Languages classroom should not be silent!

Learners should be given opportunities in the classroom to speak to each other, to be listened to by both the teacher and other learners, and to listen to the teacher and to other learners. They should be encouraged to talk and share their ideas, while being listened to and engaged with. Asking learners to answer and develop quality questions is a key part of this process (see page X) and important for developing learner's speaking and listening skills.

Talking with learners about their interests, reading them stories, using open ended questions, allowing learners to explain, retell and express their opinions all leads to language and vocabulary development, which in turn leads to overall success in learning. Communication and language skills are developed in an environment where activities that cater to the interests of the child, language-rich every day activities and language development activities intersect. See the diagram on the following page.

Creating a “print rich” environment is key to helping learners develop their reading and writing skills. A National Languages classroom should be full of things for learners to read. Resources in this area can be limited, but with some creativity, teachers can ensure the classroom environment is encouraging literacy skills. A few simple ideas to turn your classroom into a “print rich environment” include:

- Get old cartons from local shops. Cut them into large squares and write the letters of your alphabet on the squares to hang around the classroom walls. Or, write the class’ Language Experience Story on the carton to hang up on the walls so learners can read it over again and again. Or, cut the carton into smaller cards, and write the names of objects that you have in the classroom on them to label the objects around the classroom. For example, you can use a piece of cardboard to label the “door” or “table” or “chair” (in your national language, of course!).
- Get used papers from the office or a local business. Use the back side of the papers for learners to draw pictures or fold into small books that learners (or the teacher) can write their own stories in. These booklets can be collected into a folder and kept as a small class library. You can also write “sight words” or other common words in your national language to post on a “word wall”
- Get sugar, flour, bean bags from the market. Using markers, write class’ language experience stories, or songs or other sentences related to the unit themes on them to hang around the classroom.
- Create a word line. Hang a string / rope along one end of the room. As learners learn to read new words, such as key words, built words or sight words from Experience Stories, write these words on small pieces of paper or carton. Hang them up on the word line, using laundry pegs or paper clips.
- Post the daily schedule for the learners, and refer to it often, modeling the use of the printed text as useful information.
- Encourage school leadership / PTA to include written notices and poster (in the national language) to be posted in key places in the school. The alphabet or other inspirational messages can be painted in prominent locations in the school.

Focus on Accuracy or Meaning?

As learners are developing their abilities in the four areas of communication (speaking, listening, reading and writing), there are times when it is necessary for the focus of the learning to be on accuracy and correctness. But there are other times when the focus of the learning needs to be on meaning and expression of ideas. While it's important for learners to be able to spell correctly, develop grammatically correct sentences and practice neat and tidy handwriting, it is equally important for learners to gain confidence in their creative expression of ideas and thoughts, both orally and in written form.

This means that when learners are asked to express themselves, their ideas and creativity should be praised, and they should be encouraged to draw or write as best as they can, even if they are unsure of exactly how to spell a word or draw a picture. At the beginning, the learner's work may look like "scribbles" to you! But if you ask the learner what it means or what they are trying to express, they will be able to tell you exactly what that "scribble" means to them! Activities such as shared reading, the "Language Experience Story", role plays, re-telling of stories, drawing and creative writing all contribute to building learners' confidence and creativity in this area.

However, when learners are doing activities in the "Letter Lessons", the emphasis needs to be on accuracy, where learners focus on decoding the correct sounds for letters and syllables, and reading accurately what has been written. In the activities that focus on accuracy, learners should be encouraged to use correct grammar, pronunciation and neat hand writing.

	Emphasis on meaning (Focus on whole texts)	Emphasis on accuracy (Focus on parts of the language)
Listening	Learners listen in order to understand and respond to what they hear	They recognize and distinguish sounds, syllables, words and sentences
Speaking	They speak in order to communicate their thoughts and ideas to others	They use correct vocabulary, pronunciation and grammar
Reading	They read for enjoyment and to understand and use new ideas and information	They recognize parts of words (letters, syllables, tone marks, etc.), sentences and paragraphs, and can sound them out.
Writing	They write in order to communicate their thoughts and ideas	They form letters properly and neatly, spell words correctly, and use correct grammar

Assessment:

Assessment is the process of finding out what a student has learned. If assessment is done only at the end of the year (in a summative assessment), it is too late for the teacher to do anything about what may or may not have been learned! On-going, classroom-based assessment is much more effective in ensuring that learners are achieving the outcomes, as set out in the syllabus.

On-going formative assessment is an integral part of the teaching and learning process. This assessment becomes part of the everyday learning, not just sitting an exam at the end of the term. Knowledge, skills and attitudes can be assessed using three different types of opportunities:

1. Observation – watching students working (good for assessing skills)
2. Conversation – asking questions and talking to students (good for assessing knowledge and understanding)
3. Product – appraising learner’s work (physical products such as drawings, posters, written stories, models etc.).

All three types of assessment can be used and the information checked against the other two forms of assessment. This is called ‘triangulation’

Feedback based on the three types of assessment should be given to the learners. This feedback can come in the form of written comments, general comments to the class, or having a conversation with individual learners. Having a conversation with the learner is often the most effective way of giving feedback.

Feedback will help learners to know what they need to improve in order to achieve the learning outcome, clarify any misunderstandings or gaps in the learning, help learners understand what they have done well, and clarify what they need to do next.

Any feedback that is given should be both honest and encouraging. It should also be specific, and come as soon as possible. It should also be “actionable” so learners know what it is that they need to do in order to improve.

Please refer to the “Assessment Guidance” document to find out more.

Assessment opportunities exist for each of the activities in National Languages, and should be used on a daily basis to assess learning. Through Conversation, Observation and Products created, the teacher can continually assess if learning outcomes are being achieved. This ongoing assessment should be used to inform ongoing learning. It will help the teacher to know what competencies and outcomes the teacher should emphasize in the next days’ learning.

An example of this is from a Product Assessment Opportunity from the “Listen to the Sound” activity which says, “Can learners think of words that contain the key sound and correctly pronounce the sound in different positions in words?” If the teacher finds that many learners are having trouble to do this, the teacher can plan to spend more time the following day on reviewing the key sound and helping learners to hear that sound in different contexts.

Quality Questions:

Asking good questions throughout the lesson, and not just at test time or at the end of the lesson, is an important part of effective learning. Asking good questions to the learners is an essential part of class-room based on-going assessment. Good questions also promotes the development of higher level thinking skills, giving learners the opportunity to develop deeper knowledge and understanding.

Why should I ask questions?

- Engaging learners. Young learners need to participate in their own learning. Asking good questions throughout the lesson engages the learners in the lesson. Giving learners the opportunity to both answer and ask questions ensures that the learners' ideas and opinions are listened to and valued. Asking and answering good questions is also a lot of fun for young learners and will lead to better behaviour and better learning.
- Gives opportunity to practice speech. National Languages subject is all about communication. Answering and asking questions gives the learners opportunities to practice and rehearse appropriate forms of communication and interaction with both their peers and others.
- Develops listening skills. When learners are given a chance throughout the lesson to answer interesting questions, they are practicing both listening carefully to the questions being asked, but also practicing listening to responses given by their classmates and others.
- Assessment. Asking good questions, listening to the answers and listening to questions that the learners have, helps the teacher to identify any misconceptions or misunderstandings in the lesson. This then helps to shape the appropriate next steps in learning.
- Reflect competencies. Asking good questions helps to develop learner's competencies in National Languages. These competencies can be thought of as:
knowledge & understanding + skills + attitudes = competency.

Critical and Creative Thinking: Learners can use questions to find out new things, to make judgements, to make comparisons and contrasts and to develop new solutions and approaches to their problems. Questions allow learners to explore new ideas, and develop their own creativity based on questions they hear from others.

Cooperation: In asking and answering questions, learners are showing that they can work collaboratively towards common goals, and to value others' responses and ideas. This fosters the development of the skill of respect and tolerance for others and for different ideas and ways of thinking.

Communication: Asking and answering good questions is a key to good communication. Developing skills in this area help learners develop their skills in expressing themselves clearly and in formulating ways to communicate to different audiences. Having models of good questions and allowing learners to develop their own questions also gives them practice in listening and finding ways to ask their own questions.

Culture & Identity: Giving learners opportunity to engage with good questions can help learners to build their understanding not just of their own culture and heritage, but of the culture and heritage of others. This contributes to the development of respect and understanding, among a diversity of cultures and world-views.

How do I ask quality questions?

- Who do I ask questions to?

Disengaged learners: Asking good questions can help inattentive learners to engage and participate with the learning.

Expert learners: Some learners may have better understanding or more experience with a particular topic. These learners can be asked to share with the rest of the class.

Those who have struggled in a previous activity: Some learners may have had a hard time to understand an earlier activity in the classroom. Asking questions to these learners can help you to know if they have caught up or if you need to re-visit a particular topic.

Less confident learners: Some learners are quiet and may be less confident of what they know. Asking these learners to answer questions, or ask their own, can help build their confidence and share their ideas and thoughts with the class.

**Don't only ask the children who always have their hands up!

- When should I ask questions?

Frequently and regularly: Don't wait until the end of the lesson to ask questions! Ask questions throughout the lesson.

When starting new activities: Asking questions and allowing learners to ask their own questions at the beginning of a new activity will help engage the learners and ensure they know what is expected in the activity.

- What do I do with the answers to the questions?

Ask a question, and then wait for 5 seconds for learners to think about a response. Some learners need some time to think and process a good contribution.

Praise effort rather than every answer. Say, "Thank you for your contribution". Show an interest in the response by listening carefully to each response. Don't interrupt as the learners are answering or asking a further question.

Ask other learners to comment and / or ask an additional related question.

Teacher can ask a related questions to clarify.

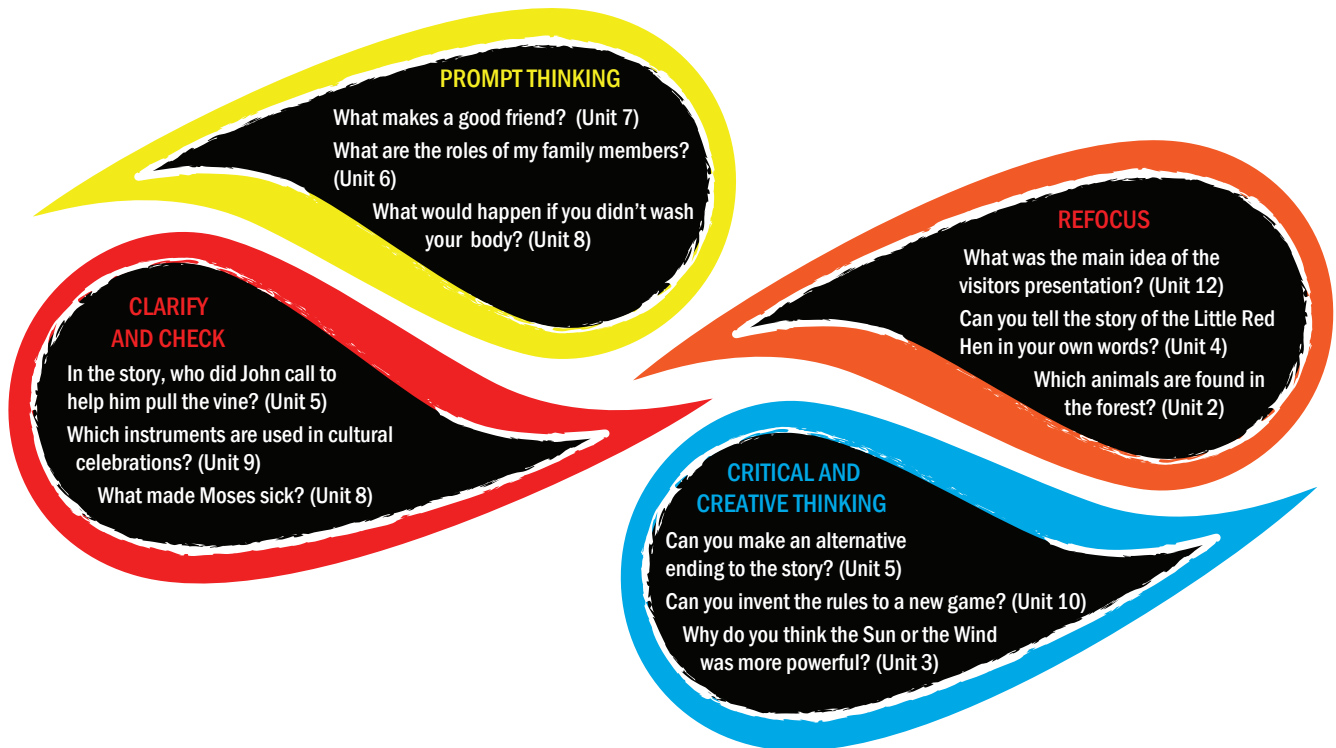

Note that sometimes it's good to record answers for immediate display or to take notes to inform the next lesson.

- What type of questions should I ask?

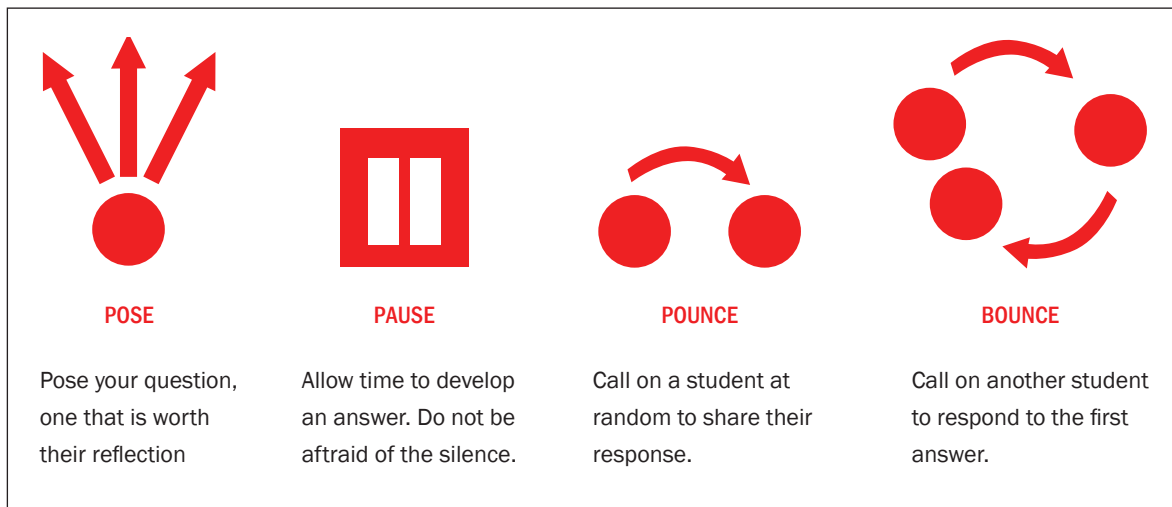

There are four types of quality questions that can be used.

1. To clarify and check
 “Can you recall...”
 “When did _____ happen?”
 “Who did...”
2. To refocus:
 “What can you say about...”
 “What is the main idea of...”
 “How can you say this in your own words....”
3. To prompt thinking:
 “What examples can you find to...”
 “What would happen if...”
 “What questions would you ask....”
4. To promote critical / creative thinking
 “Why do you think...”
 “What is your opinion about....”
 “Can you propose an alternative to...”

Examples from National Languages Units:

One good strategy that you can use in your classroom to ask quality questions is a “Pose, Pause, Bounce, Pounce” activity.

(Source: McGill, R. M. (2011). How to move your lessons from good to outstanding.)

1. Pose: Ask a good question for learners to think about and reflect on.
2. Pause: Stay silent and wait for 5 – 10 seconds while learners are thinking about their answer to the question.
3. Pounce: Call on a learner at random to let them give their answer to the question. Learners will not have their hands raised, but the teacher chooses a learner to give an answer.
4. Bounce: As soon as the first learner (A) has given their answer, call on a second learner (B) to ask what learner B thought about learner A’s answer. Or, possibly, B has a further question based on A’s response. You can keep asking other learners to respond and bounce their own questions and responses back to the other learners several times before you go back to Step 1 and Pose a new question.

Structure of Materials

In P1, learners are given opportunity to use their language in various contexts, to build their language abilities in all four strands. Themes, such as “Animals at Home”, “Jobs people do” and “Family” are used as real life, familiar contexts in which young learners can develop competencies in communication, critical and creative thinking, cooperation, and of course, culture and heritage.

There are 12 units to be taught in the National Language subject. Each unit has activities which will give learners opportunity to explore some Key Inquiry Questions. These questions are meant to guide the learning, to ensure the learning outcomes for that unit are achieved. These questions are not meant to be explicitly asked to the learners, but should be kept in the mind of the teacher to guide the learning throughout that Unit.

Through stories, games, drama, creative writing, guest speakers, debates and class experiences, learners will interact with the various topics of the units, while at the same time learning how to read and write the specific letters and features of their own language. It is anticipated that each Unit will take 3 weeks to work through all of the activities.

Because many children come to school without having much experience with books and literacy, the first part of Unit 1 focuses on preparing children to understand some of the basic concepts of print awareness, and the fact that what they see printed on a page has a connection to real language. The fine motor skills needed to begin writing letters shapes are also developed.

Following these activities in the first part of Unit 1, learners are then introduced, very slowly, to the individual letters of their own alphabet in a “letter lesson”. The emphasis in the lessons is on decodability - that is, only introducing words and sentences that contain only letters that they have already been taught. This allows learners to be able to read independently from a very early stage, giving them the joy of discovering the meaning of the written word on their own!

Class Work

"Letter Lessons" follow the same type of pattern each week. Each letter of the alphabet has one or two pages in the pupil book. You will use the same pages in the Pupil Book for two different lessons. The first day, you will do activities relating to some parts of the pupil book, and the second day you will review what you did the previous day, and then continue to do activities with other parts of the pupil book. Each lesson follows the same pattern, so you and your learners will know what to expect and how to do each of the activities very well! Teaching through the steps for the lesson should take 30–40 minutes total.

Before each "Letter Lesson", Teacher Responsibilities Before Coming to Class:

1. Arrive early to prepare the blackboard before class.
2. Prepare a riddle, story, visual aid and/or other technique for introducing the key word to the learners. You will need to use this for the "Listen to the Sound" activity.
  - Riddle: Be creative! Think up with a creative riddle to help the learners guess what the key word of the day might be. For example, if the key word is "snake", you might tell the class: "My body is covered with scales, but when I move I crawl on the ground". If the word is "egg", you might tell the class: "An ostrich's is very big. A chicken's one can be quite small. It is something that you can eat, which you can boil or scramble."
  - Short Story: Tell an interesting or funny story about the key word. It might be an experience that you had with that object, or it might be a story that you have heard about it. You can even make up your very own story out of your imagination! It only has to take a minute or two to tell the story, so make sure it is not very long. For example, if the key word is "egg", you might tell about seeing the chicks hatch from the eggs.
  - Visual Aid: Bring the item that the key word describes into the classroom. For example, if the key word for the day is, "egg", bring in some type of egg to show the class. If the key word is a particular type of tree, bring in some of the leaves from that tree.
3. Prepare a list of six words to be used in the "Listen to the Sounds (phonemic awareness)" activity, three of which contain the new sound/letter and three which do not. Of the three words containing the new sound, one should contain the new sound at the beginning of the word, another in the middle and another at the end.
4. Read through the comprehension questions for the story (if there is one for that lesson) and make sure you know the expected answers.
5. Practice reading the story for today's lesson so that you can read it fluently to the class.
6. Learners will have practiced handwriting in the previous lesson by writing in their notebooks. These notebooks will have been given to the teacher to be checked. Check and comment on the learners' hand writing in their notebooks and have the notebooks ready to give back to the learners at the beginning of class for the writing activity.

Begin each lesson with a review of the previous two lessons:

As a class:

1. Prepare the board by clearly writing the key words and the built words from the previous two lessons. Randomly select learners to read aloud the key words and built words. If learners struggle to read these familiar words, then the teacher should identify the syllable of the word that is causing the difficulty and break that syllable into its constituent letters. The learner is then asked to pronounce each of the letters until the problematic letter is identified. This letter can be reviewed by reminding the learner of the key word used to demonstrate the sound of that letter and by contrasting it with other letters that could be causing confusion.
2. Erase the words and draw the lines for letter and word writing. Ask for volunteers to come write the letters and the key words of the previous two lessons on the lines drawn.
3. Select learners to read the story from the last lesson. Each learner can read one sentence. Select new learners to read one sentence until the text is completely read. Select a learner to read the entire text, if the text is not too long. Finally, the teacher reads the entire text fluently.

After you have done the Review, use the following pattern for each lesson:

On the first day of teaching a letter lesson, you will do the following activities. All of these activities, along with the review, should take 30–40 minutes, total. However, especially early in the year, there may be some lessons that look a little bit different because of some of the unique things in your language! You will be shown how to teach those small differences at the appropriate place in this Teachers Guide.

1. “Listen to the Sounds” (Phonemic Awareness)
2. “Key Letter” (Alphabetic Principle)
3. “Word Breaking and Building”
4. “Syllable Making”

The second day of teaching a letter lesson, you will do the following activities. All of these activities, along with the review, should take 30–40 minutes, total.

5. “Parts of our Language” (Grammar lesson)
6. “New Word Building” (vocabulary)
7. “Story Reading” (with comprehension questions)
8. “Writing”

1. Listen to the sounds (Phonemic awareness):

1. Introduce the key word provided for the lesson using a riddle, story, or visual aid (see pg. 10 for how to do this). If there are two key words in the lesson prepare an introduction for each word.
2. Tell the class that the new sound is heard in the key word. (If the key word has only one syllable, then skip down to step 2.) Break the key word into syllables by clapping the parts. Tell the class which part of the key word contains the new sound. Have the class break the key word into syllables using the 'I Say, We Say, You Say' activity (pg. 26).
3. Pronounce the new sound and have the learners repeat it using the 'I Say, We Say, You Say' activity. Be careful to give the sound of the letter and not the name of the letter. Ask the learners if the new sound occurs at the beginning or end of the word and of the syllable which contains the sound.
4. Using the list of words that you have prepared before class, explain to the learners that you will now pronounce some words and that the words may or may not contain the new sound. Tell the learners to raise their hand each time they hear the new sound pronounced in one of the words and not to raise their hand each time they do not hear the new sound pronounced in one of the words. Pronounce the first word to the learners. Wait for them to respond. Correct them, if necessary. If the word contains the new sound, ask where the new sound is heard; at the beginning, middle or end. Repeat for each word.
5. Ask the learners to think of words that contain the new sound. Ask volunteers to pronounce their word to the class. If the word contains the new sound, ask the learners where the sound is heard. If the word offered does not contain the new sound, pronounce the new sound again carefully and ask the same volunteer for another word. Take volunteers until 4-5 words containing the new sound are given.

Assessment Opportunity:

Observation:

Can learners correctly identify the different parts of the word (syllables) by breaking the key word into syllables during the first "I say, we say, you say" activity?

Can learners read and pronounce the key word correctly during the "I say, we say, you say" activities?

Are learners able to identify whether the key sound comes at the beginning, middle or end of the word?

Are learners raising their hands to show that they have identified the sound of the key letter in different positions in the word as you say the words?

Product:

Can learners think of words that contain the key sound and correctly pronounce the sound in different positions in words?

2. Key letter (Alphabetic Principle)

Write the small and capital letter on the board. “This is the letter that makes the sound [x]”. Point to the small letter and say, “This is the little brother. It says [x]”. Point to the capital letter and say, “This is the big brother. It also say [x]”. “See how they look alike. They must be brothers!”

In pairs, ask learners to point to the capital letter in their books and tell their neighbour the sound of that letter. Then, ask them to point to the small letter in their books and tell their neighbour the sound of that letter.

Assessment Opportunity

Conversation:

Can learners produce the correct sound of the key letters when they are read in their books?

Do they recognize how some of the key features of their language are written (for example, tone, breathiness and vowel quality?)

3. Word Breaking and Building

1. Prepare the board for the word breaking and word building activity (as shown in the Pupil book) For example: here the new letter /k/ is being taught.

makaka	k
ka	ka
k	makaka

- Tell the learners that the key word on the board is the written form of the key word from the previous phonetic awareness activity and pronounce it for the class while pointing to the word.
2. Ask the class to read the key word makaka using the 'I Say, We Say, You Say' activity (on pg. 26).
  3. Break the key word by clapping its parts and show where the new letter is located in the key word. Point out how many parts (syllables) the word has and the sound of the letter in those parts. Say something like, "The word makaka has three parts. The letter that makes the sound /k/ is in the middle part and in the last part."
  4. Ask the class to break the key word into parts using the 'I Say, We Say, You Say' activity and point to the parts as the class responds.
  5. Ask two learners to come to the board to point to the new letter in the key word.
  6. Show the syllable below the key word and say that this part of the key word, /ka/, contains the new letter. Ask the class to read the remaining part, /ka/. Ask some individuals to read /ka/. Ask if the new letter is found at the beginning or the end of this part.
  7. Show that the box below is the new letter /k/ and remark that the new letter is the part of the key word that gives the sound 'k' and the shape of /k/ in the key word.
  8. Build up to the key word in the column immediately to the right, beginning with the new letter on top. Begin at the top of the column and tell the learners that the new letter combines with the other letter to form part of the key word immediately below. Ask the class to read this newly built part. Ask some individuals to read this newly built part.
  9. Tell the learners that the new part combines with another part to make the key word immediately below. Ask the class to read the key word. Ask some individuals to read the key word.
  10. In pairs: As learners to turn to their neighbour and read the word breaking and building exercise together, out of their books.

Assessment Opportunity:

Observation:

Can learners correctly identify the key letter in the key word as it is written on the board?

As learners are working in pairs, can they correctly read the syllables and key word?

4. Making Syllables:

1. Prepare the board for syllable making (as you see in the Pupil Book) For example:

a	e	i	o	u
ka	ke	ki	ko	ku

2. Show the letter at the top of the first column and say that it combines with the new letter to form a new syllable. “/a/ and /k/ make /ka/” (In lessons 1 and 2, have the class repeat this with you using the ‘I Say, We Say, You Say’ activity. This should not be necessary in later lessons. In later lessons, do not read the syllables for the learners but have the learners read the syllables for themselves.)
3. Repeat this for each column.
4. Ask the class to read the entire syllable making table as you point to each syllable moving by columns from top to bottom and then from left to right. Have two individuals read the entire table as you point to each syllable. Have two more individuals read as you point to any letter or syllable randomly.
5. In pairs, have the learners repeat the activity in step 4. One neighbour can point to a random letter or syllable while the other reads it out. Repeat steps 1-5 with syllable boxes 2 and 3 in the Pupil’s Book.

Assessment Opportunity:

Observation:

Are learners able to correctly read the letters and syllables in the Making Syllables exercise?

Letter Lessons with Two Key Words or Two Key Letters:

Some Letter Lessons use two different key words to teach two different key letters. Some Letter Lessons use the same key word to teach two key letters.

If you see a lesson like this, simply follow the steps for the “Listen to the Sounds” activity, followed by the “Key Letter” activity and the “Word Breaking and Building” activity for the first key word that you see. Then, start again at the “Listen to the Sounds” activity, through to “Word Breaking and Building” for the second key word. Then move on to the “Making Syllables” activity as normal. You will see that the Making Syllables and Word Building activities in the Pupil Book contain both of the new Key Letters for that lesson.

5. Parts of our Language

This is an activity which appears in some, but not all, lessons. Usually, it will be a series of short, decodable words, phrases or sentences, which will help highlight a part of the grammar of your language. When it appears, there will be specific instructions in this Teacher's Guide on how to lead the learners in this activity.

6. New Word Building (Vocabulary)

1. Prepare the board for the vocabulary and word building activity, copying what you see in the pupil book for this section. For example:

2. Show the class that the bubbles contain syllables and that the bubbles combine to form a word below.
3. Ask the class to read the syllables in the bubbles as you point to them from left to right. Show how the same syllables are part of the word below. Have several individuals read the syllables and then read the word below as you point to them.
4. Explain the meaning of the built words. Ask the learners to give words that mean the same as the built word. Ask the learners to give words that mean the opposite of the built word. For example: The opposite of "big" is "small" or the opposite of "wet" is "dry".
5. Say that these built words will be found in the story below and that they will recognize them there.

Assessment Opportunity:

Observation:

Can learners correctly recognize the taught letters in words?

Product:

Are learners showing an increasing complex vocabulary as they give words that have the same or opposite meaning as the Built Words?

Can learners read the built words fluently, showing their recognition that the words are made up of different syllables?

7. Story Reading

1. Individual work: Direct the learners' attention to the story in their pupil book. Confirm that all learners have found the story in their pupil books. Do NOT read the story to the class yet.
2. Ask all individuals to read the story silently to themselves. They can mumble as they read but not such that the other learners can understand what they are reading.
3. As a class: Ask the comprehension questions that you will find in the Teachers Guide to the learners. If the learners cannot answer a question, show them where in the text the answer can be found. Do NOT read the text to the learner. Then ask that same learner to read that section of text and ask the same question once again. If the learner still cannot answer the question, ask the same question to another learner. If the question asks for the learners to imagine something outside of the text, accept all answers that make sense.
4. Ask one learner to read the first sentence of the story aloud. If the learner cannot read a word, help that learner break the word into parts and then have the student read each part. If the learner cannot read a word part, break that part into letters and have the learner read the letters. If the learner cannot read a letter, remind the learner of the key word that was used when that letter was introduced in the primer. Show the learner the letter in question and pronounce it for them. Have the student point to the letter and pronounce it. Ask the learner to read the part of the word from the story that they could not read before. Have the learner read the whole word that they could not read before. Ask the learner now to read the entire sentence.
5. Repeat until all the sentences are read.
6. Now the teacher reads the entire story with expression and fluency
7. Ask as many learners as possible to read the entire story.

Assessment Opportunity:

Conversation:

Can learners correctly answer the comprehension questions, showing that they have understood what they have read on their own?

Product:

Can learners read familiar and simple words and sentences, and show they understood their meaning by expressing their ideas and opinions about the story?

8. Writing

1. Draw only the writing lines on the board. Draw them large. Next write the letter in the lines, describing the motions of your hand as you draw them. "For the small letter, first I start on the middle line and draw a straight line down to the bottom line. Then I come back almost to the top of that line and draw a hook up to the middle line and then down to the bottom line. ...."

2. Next turn your back to the learners and draw the small letter in the air using large motions and explaining your writing motions as you make them. Do this again, asking the learners repeat after you the description of your writing motions as you make them.
3. Erase the letter you drew in the lines, but do not erase the lines. Moisten a sponge or cloth with water and use it to draw the small letter in the lines, leaving the trace of moisture to outline the form of the letter. Ask a volunteer to come to the board and trace the outline with the chalk. Ask them to describe the motions of their hands as they do so. Make another trace of the letter in the lines drawn on the board and ask another volunteer to come to the board and trace the outline with the chalk. Ask them to describe the motions of their hands as they do so. Repeat for several other volunteers.
4. Hold up your pupil's book and indicate the writing exercise for this lesson. Tell the learners to point to the exercise and hold up their books to show that they have found it. Ask those that have found the exercise to help those around them that did not. Ask the learners to use their fingers to trace the large, bold letters at the top of the first page of the lesson in their pupil books.
5. Pass back the learners' notebooks and give them time to see your comments on their handwriting from the last class.
6. Individual Work: Ask the learners to write two lines of the new letter and one line of the key word. When finished, collect the notebooks and check the work of the learners before the next class. Have the notebooks ready to return to the learners at the beginning of the next class.

Assessment Opportunity:

Product:

As learners are tracing the letters in their textbooks, are they able to accurately follow the lines? When you collect and check their notebooks, are they neatly and accurately forming the letters that have been taught?

Review Lessons (Check Your Progress)

1. Capital and small letter box

This box has two rows. The first box holds small letters, and the second box holds capital letters.

Individual Work: Where the box in the top row is empty, ask students to fill in the small letter that corresponds to the capital letter immediately below. When the box in the second row is empty, ask students to fill in the capital letter that corresponds to the small letter immediately above. They can write the box in their exersize books.

For example, the completed box should look like this, written in the exersize book:

A	C	G	T	E
a	c	g	t	e

2. Picture matching

In Pairs: Learners should use their fingers to draw a line between the picture and the corresponding word.

3. Syllable/Letter Box (Making words)

The grid contains parts of words, either syllables or letters.

In groups: Learners should work in groups to choose letters or syllables of one box in the grid to combine with the contents of other boxes of the grid to make a complete word.

Shared Reading

Shared reading is useful for:

- encouraging prediction in reading
- helping new readers and writers learn about the relationship between print and speech
- providing an enjoyable learning experience, and
- teaching sight words.

The story must have print that is large enough for everyone in the group to see.

- Simple stories can be written on the blackboard.
- For a small group, use a book with large print.

Guidelines

- Discuss the story and any illustrations with the learners
  - before reading the story to build anticipation, or
  - after reading the story to help comprehension.
- Teachers should read the story fluently and with expression.
- The Teacher should always track the words being read with a pointer.

Steps (for beginner readers)

1. When introducing a new story, talk about the title and the kind of story (is it a true story, or a folk tale or another type of story?). From what you have talked about, and any illustrations you might have, ask the learners what they think the story might be about?
2. The teacher by him/herself reads the story 2-4 times, reading fluently and with expression. The teacher should track the words with a pointer as he/she reads.
3. Everybody in the class reads together 2-4 times, as the teacher points to the words.
4. The teacher and different individual students read together, as the teacher points to the words.
5. Individual students take turns pointing and reading out loud by themselves. The teacher must praise the students.
6. The teacher and the entire class read the story together again.

Use some of the following activities to help the students learn some individual words and review taught letters:

- Write individual words on the board and test the learners with them. See if the learners can identify the sight words. If there are words from the story containing letters that have been taught already (decodable) you can ask the learners to read those.
- Make flash cards with letters from one of the decodable words in the story. See if learners can put the letters in order to make the word. Or, let learners make up their own words, using those same letters.
- Make flash cards with some of the sight words or decodable words. You can write individual words on flashcards and see if learners can make sentences with them.
- Use flash cards to play 'matching games.'

The next time you read this story, repeat all the above steps: Fewer repeat readings of the whole story may be required. At step 6 focus in detail on pages not covered before in this way. As the learners get to know the story better, individuals may also be asked to read larger portions of the story on their own.

Language Experience Story

Objectives:

(a) To encourage students in thinking of and telling a story; oral language development. (b) To show by example how to write a story. (c) To show by example how to read a story fluently. (d) To show that reading and writing is meaningful. (e) To learn to read sight words in context.

1. Give the learners an opportunity to take part in an experience, as outlined in the Teachers' Guide for each Unit. This might involve taking the class outside to experience the weather or the market, or bringing something new to the class for the learners to see or smell or taste.
2. After the experience, the students need to think up a good story together (e.g. about the experience) and tell it to the teacher who writes the students' story on the board, saying each word as it is written. It is important to remember that it is the learners who work together to make up the story. The teacher does not direct or dictate the story! The teacher should just write what the class tells the teacher to write.
3. Follow the "Shared Reading" Mini Lesson.
4. Now play word games with the story (example games are explained below):

Matching game (letters):

The teacher writes 3–5 of the previously taught letters from the story on flash cards. Let individual students come to the front and match the letter cards with letters they see in the story, while saying the sound of that letter. Gently correct as necessary. Everybody should look at the card and say the sound of the letter together. Drill the letters in different order.

Matching game (words):

The teacher writes any 3-5 words from the story on flash cards. Let individual students come to the front and match the word cards with the same word in the story. Gently correct as necessary. Everybody should look at the card and read the word together. Drill the words in different order. Learn the card words as sight words.

Hide-a-word game:

Erase any word in the story. Put an underline where the word was. Read the story again together and let the students say what word is missing. Write the missing word in its place again on the line. Learn the word as a sight word. Erase and learn several more long and short words. Point to all the underlined words in different order to drill them until the students know how to read them at first glance.

If possible, after class or during the break, the teacher can write the story on big paper with a crayon or marker and attach it to the wall of the classroom for the next day and for decorating the classroom and enhancing "print environment".

I Say, We Say, You Say

This model is important in helping learners become independent readers.

I Say:

First, the teacher reads (or says) the sound of letter or the word that they are teaching in order to model the reading activity.

We say:

Next, the teacher invites the class to join them in reading (or saying) the sound of the letter or word that they are teaching. The teacher and learners do the reading activity together. Remember not to have the learners “parrot” or simply repeat after you. Make sure you don’t read the word first, but let the learners read the word when you point to it.

You say:

Finally, learners are given the opportunity to read (or say) the sound of the letter or word independently on their own, in pairs or in small groups.

Alternative Endings

After reading the story in their text books, ask the learners to change the ending of the story, based on the theme for the Unit. Learners can work in groups or pairs and then share their ideas with the rest of the class. For example, if the unit theme is Animals in the Forest, learners could create an ending where an elephant comes and tramples the crops instead of the farmer harvesting the crops.

New Characters

After reading the story in their textbooks, ask learners to introduce a new character to the story, based on the theme for the Unit. For example, if the unit theme is “Jobs People Do”, learners could re-tell the story, adding the character of a nurse or a driver or any other occupations that have been discussed in the unit.

Exaggerated Story

Ask learners to create an exaggerated story based on the Unit Theme. You can offer a story starting sentence, and ask the learners to finish the story. For example, if the theme is Animals at Home, you can start a story by saying “Mary had 50 cats at home. What happened next?”

Role Play

Ask learners to work in small groups to act out a story that they have heard or read.

Show and Tell

Ask learners to bring something related to the theme into the class. Learners can take turns telling each other about their object and asking questions about others’ objects.

Rhyming Words

Tell the class one word related to the Unit Theme. Ask learners to take turns thinking of additional words that rhyme. For example for the Unit on “Animals at Home”, you can say, “Dog” and the learners could think of words such as, “fog, log, bog...” (All this will be done in your National Language!).

Relay Story

Make a small ball out of plastic bags or scrap paper. Ask learners to make a circle, either in small groups or as a class. Using the Unit Theme, think of a story starter sentence. After you have started the story, throw the ball to a learner. That learner makes up a sentence that follows the starter. That learner then throws the ball to another learner. That learner makes up the next sentence for the story. Learners continue throwing, catching and making up sentences to the story until the story comes to a conclusion or everyone has had a turn. For example, if the Unit Theme is “Weather”, the teacher can say, “One day, I was caught outside in a terrible rain storm.” She then throws the ball to a learner, who might then say, “I was having a lot of fun, because the rain was making a lot of puddles on the road.” Etc.

Learn about

Give opportunity for learners to hear a story about a familiar animal using shared reading in a big book and use appropriate language to investigate domestic animals. Give learners opportunity to listen closely to the sounds they hear around them. Learners should sing a well-known song about domestic animals. Learners should share an experience of a domestic animal and write a short story about it together as a class. Learners should be given opportunity to draw a picture related to the story.

Learners should be given opportunity to compare and contrast characteristics of domestic and wild animals through discussion, looking at pictures, imitating their sounds. Learners should identify letter sounds, and be given opportunity to explore 3 letters of their language through an ABC Book or similar language specific resource and be given opportunity to recognize and copy their own first name.

Key inquiry questions

- Can you describe sounds you hear around you?
- Which animals do you recognize?
- Which pictures represent domestic animals?
- What sounds are at the beginning of the names of domestic animals?
- Choose some words to describe your favourite animal.
- Describe an experience you had with a domestic animal.

Learning outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

- Begin to identify the sound at the beginning, middle and end of a simple word
- Know the names and sounds of the first 3 letters in their language
- List the names of the animals at home and pronounce the first sound in their names
- Begin to know the direction of reading of a text (left to right, up and down)

Skills

- Begin to produce letter sounds at the beginning, middle and end of words
- Write a story as a class about a familiar domestic animal
- Draw various shapes
- Listen attentively to others and respond appropriately
- Talk about matters of immediate interest
- Begin to use language appropriately in song
- Recognize and copy their own written name
- Use writing to communicate meaning.
- Hold a pencil correctly
- Handle a book and care for it properly
- Discuss meaning and express opinion about a story

Attitudes

- Enjoy the sounds of their language
- Enjoy shared reading

Contribution to the competencies:

- Critical thinking: Sorting and analyzing characteristics of domestic and wild animals
Communication: Reading and comprehending a story, speak clearly and communicate about domestic animals, listening to and comprehending speech
Co-operation: Working collaboratively and being tolerant of each other to write a story as a class
Culture: Recognize their cultural identity through consideration of domestic animals at home and their cultural representation of sounds

Links to other subjects:

- Science: Learning about classification of animals
Arts: Singing a familiar song about animals

Key Learning Outcome

Discuss meaning and express opinions about a story.

Key Inquiry Questions

Can you describe sounds you hear around you?

Which animal sounds do you recognize?

Story Time

As a class

Learners should listen to a story about “Duma’s new friends”. Ask some comprehension questions about the story. (See Read Aloud Story below)

In Pairs

Learners should share with each other their favourite animal from the story.

Ask learners to close their eyes and listen carefully. Do they hear any animal sounds around them? In pairs, ask learners to imitate the sound of an animal they heard. Can their partner guess which animal they heard?

Can learners accurately imitate the sounds of the animals that they hear?

Observation:

Can learners properly care for and hold a book?

Making Connections 1

Purpose

- Recognize that print has meaning.
- Recognize that print represents sound.

Steps

As a class

Draw Ana on the board.

Hold up your book and show that the image on the board is the same as in the book. Have the learners hold up their books so that you can verify that they are in the right place in their books.

“This is a girl. Her name is Ana.

Listen to me say it, ‘Ana’. Again, ‘Ana’.

Now you all say it after me, ‘Ana’. Again ‘Ana’.

Next point to the image of Ana and ask the class to say the name on their own.

In pairs

Point to the picture of Ana in your book. Show your neighbour the picture of Ana and say the name ‘Ana’ to your neighbour.

Choose several individuals in the class to say the name out loud to the whole class. Repeat this procedure for “Samuel”.

Unit 1 - Lesson 2

Hide and Say

Purpose

- Connect printed images with sound and meaning.

As a Class

Draw Ana and Samuel on the board. Draw them side by side. “These are people that we know; Ana and Samuel.” Do not point to the drawings as you say them.

Point to the picture of Ana and ask if this is Ana or Samuel. Point to the picture of Samuel and ask if this is Ana or Samuel. If there is any problem associating the pictures with their names, then review the names of each.

Next, stand in front of both images so that the learners cannot see either of them. Tell the students to say the name of the person that they see when you stand to one side. Stand to one side, revealing one person or the other, but not both. Learners should say the name of the revealed image. Do this for both images and then repeat in random order.

In groups

Divide the students into groups and have the groups respond as you repeat the procedure. Divide the students into pairs and have the pairs respond as you repeat the procedure. Finally, choose several individuals to respond as you repeat the procedure for each individual.

In Pairs

Show the learners the corresponding activity in the book. Direct pairs of children to play the same game with one of their neighbours. Have one neighbour cover both images with their hands. Tell them to uncover only one of the images. The other neighbour then says the name of the image. Have pairs change roles and repeat.

Writing

Purpose

- Develop fine motor skills for writing.

As a class

Draw the drawing/writing exercise on the board. Draw it large. Trace the path of the insect with your finger, describing the motions as you do so; “up, down, up, down”. Chose a learner to come to the board and trace the path. Choose a few other learners to repeat.

Take a wet sponge or cloth and erase the path, leaving the trace of the path created by the wet of the sponge or cloth. Draw in the path with chalk, following the trace of wet left by the sponge or cloth. Describe the motions of the chalk as you follow the path; “up, down, up, down”. Erase the path made by the chalk, leaving again a trace of wet. Chose a learner to come to the board and draw in the path with chalk by following the trace of wet, describing their motions as they do so. Choose a few other learners to repeat.

Individual work

Show the learners the drawing / writing exercise in their books. Tell them to trace the path of the insect with their finger, describing their motions as they do so.

In pairs

Next, ask the learner to trace the path in their neighbour’s book.

Unit 1 - Lesson 2

Observation

Learners can show that they recognize and recall images by pointing to the requested image.

Conversation

Learners can orally reproduce the names of images when requested in interaction with the teacher and with other learners.

Product

Learners can trace simple writing motions.

Making Connections 1

Purpose

- Connect printed images with printed abstract shapes and meaning.

As a class

Draw Ana and Samuel on the board. Write their names large under their drawings on the board. “Ana’s name is now written under her picture just like it is in your book.” Indicate Ana’s name where you have written it on the board and hold up the book to show where it is written in their books.

“Touch Ana’s name in your books like I am touching it in my book. Hold up your book and touch Ana’s name.”

In Pairs

Tell learners: “Look at your neighbour to see if she is touching Ana’s name.”

“Touch Ana’s name again and say “Ana” to your neighbour.”

Each neighbour should touch Ana’s name and say Ana.

Repeat with the name of Samuel.

Repeat the procedure for Samuel.

Making Connections 1

Purpose

- Connect whole word shapes with meaning.

As a class

Erase the pictures of Ana and Samuel, leaving only the names. Point to each name and ask the learners to say the name indicated. Write the names twice more each on the board in random order. Point to each name and ask the learners to say the name indicated. Repeat and point to the names in a random order.

Show the learners the corresponding activity in the book. Direct pairs of children to play the same game with their neighbour. Have one learner point to names. The other neighbour then says the name. Have pairs change roles and repeat.

Writing

Purpose

- Develop fine motor skills for writing.
- Develop creativity in drawing shapes.

As a Class

Draw the first drawing/writing exercise on the board. Draw it large. Trace the path of the second insect with your finger, describing the motions as you do so; “up, down, up, down”. Choose a learner to come to the board and trace the path. Choose a few other learners to repeat.

describing their motions as they do so. Choose a few other learners to repeat.

Take a wet sponge or cloth and erase the path of the second exercise, leaving the trace of the path created by the wet of the sponge or cloth. Draw in the path with a chalk, following the trace of wet left by the sponge or cloth. Describe the motions of the chalk as you follow the path; “around and around and around”. Erase the path made by the chalk, leaving again a trace of wet. Chose a learner to come to the board and draw in the path with chalk by following the trace of wet. Tell the learner to describe their motions as they do so. Choose a few other learners to repeat.

Individual Work

Show the learners the drawing/writing exercise in their books. Tell them to trace both paths of the insects with their finger, describing their motions as they do so.

In Pairs

Next, ask learners to trace the paths in their neighbour’s book.

Individual Work

Ask the learners to imagine how a bee will fly. What path might the bee take to get to a flower?

Observation

Learners can show that they recognize and recall images by pointing to the requested image. Observe learners creatively explore their own idea of a new insect path and the proficiency with which they express themselves through freedom of motion.

Conversation

Learners can orally reproduce the names of images when requested in interaction with the teacher and with other learners.

Product

Learners can trace simple writing motions. If learners were allowed to write in their books, then tracings of word shape and circling of choices would be evidence of learning outcomes.

Making Connections 1

Purpose

- Review the connection of whole word shapes with meaning.

As a Class

Draw two images of Ana and two images of Samuel on the board in random order. Write the names of Ana and Samuel twice on the board in random order.

Point to the images of Ana and Samuel one at a time in random order, asking the class to give the correct name as you point to it.

Point to the names of Ana and Samuel one at a time in random order, asking the class to give the correct name of each word as you point to it.

Draw a line from an image to the corresponding name. Ask a learner to come to the board and draw a different line from an image to the corresponding name. Repeat with another learner.

Erase the lines drawn. Demonstrate drawing a line from a name to the corresponding image. Ask a learner to do the same and repeat.

In Pairs

Direct the learners' attention to their books. Direct pairs of children to play the same game with their neighbour. Have one learner point to a name or an image. The other neighbour then says the name. Have pairs change roles and repeat.

Making Connections 2

Purpose

- Recognize and say similarities and differences in pictures and word shapes.

As a Class

Draw the first line of the table on the board. Show how the first item is either the same or different from the following items. Demonstrate how to point to each item that is the same. Next demonstrate how to point to each item that is different.

Choose a learner to come to the board. Ask them to point to the items that are the same as the first shape. Next, ask them to point to the items that are different from the first shape. If the item is a word, ask them to read the word. Repeat with another learner.

In Pairs

Direct the learners' attention to their books. Direct them to the first line of the table. Tell them to touch the first line of the table.

Tell each learner to point in their books to the items that are the same as the first item in the line. Next, tell each learner to point in their books to the items that are different from the first item. Repeat for each line of the table. If the item is a word, ask them to read that word out loud as they point to it.

Direct pairs of learners to play the same game with their neighbour. Have one learner tell their neighbour to point to the items that are the same as the first item and then to point to the items that are different. Have pairs change roles and repeat.

Point to each drawing and ask the learners to make the corresponding sound. Make corrections, if necessary.

Now, point to the images in random order, asking the learners to give the correct sound.

Next, rapidly point to the images in random order, asking the learners to give the correct sound.

Finally, choose several learners, one at a time, to respond as you point rapidly at the images on the board in random order.

Making Connections 1

Purpose

Hide and Say

Purpose

- Connect letter shapes with sounds.

As a class

Erase the pictures of the cow and goat and draw a large “aaa” and a large “uuu” on the board and stand in front of them so that the learners cannot see them. Next, stand in front of both images so that the learners cannot see either of them. Tell the students to say the sound of the letter that they see when you stand to one side. Stand to one side, revealing one letter or the other, but not both. Learners should say the sound of the revealed letter. Do this for both letters and then repeat several times.

In groups

Repeat in groups.

In Pairs

Show the learners the corresponding activity in the book. Direct pairs of children to play the same game with their neighbour. Ask one neighbour to cover both letters with their hands. Then tell them to uncover only one of the letters. The other neighbour then says the sound of the letter. Have pairs change roles and repeat.

Observation

Learners can show that they recognize and recall images and their sounds by pointing to the requested images and shapes.

Conversation

Learners can orally reproduce the sounds associated with images and with letters when requested in interaction with the teacher and with other learners.

Product

Key Inquiry Questions

Tell a story using appropriate language about an animal in the forest.

Key Learning Outcome

Tell an original story using correct language.

Story Making

Individual work - A Wild Animal Story

Tell learners they will be making up their own stories about animals in the forest. To help make their stories, they will model an animal for their stories.

Learners should use available resources (stones, sticks, clay) to model a wild animal.

In pairs

Learners can use their models to create their own stories about the wild animals, retelling their stories with the models in small groups.

Note: These stories will be used in Lesson 25.

How do you write the letters that have been taught?

Story Making

As a class

Together learners should choose a story they heard about animals in the forest in the previous week from their classmates and work with the teacher to write it on the board for Shared Reading activities. See pg. 24 for Shared Reading Mini Lesson.

Individual work

Learners should identify the letter sounds they hear at the beginning of the names of wild animals. Learners should practice writing the letters with the names of wild animals. Ensure the animals named include all the letters that have been taught.

Unit 2 - Lesson 29

Learn about

Give opportunity for learners to hear a story to hear a story using shared reading in a big book about the weather and explore appropriate language to describe the weather patterns. Learners should experience something about the weather and work together to use appropriate language to express their ideas about the weather by writing a class story on the board. Learners should explore parts of the story by engaging in activities related to recognizing sight words and syllables within words. Give opportunity for learners to debate their ideas about the weather, based on a story about the Wind and Sun. Learners should then be given opportunity to draw pictures and do creative writing about the results of the debate. These stories should be shared with the rest of the class. Learners should explore the next 3 letters of their language and investigate words within sentences and syllables within words.

Key inquiry questions

- How do you write the letters that have been taught?
- Use appropriate language to debate ideas about the weather.
- How can you predict what comes next in a story?
- How do we recognize parts of word (syllables)?

Learning outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

- Begin to recognize that sentences are composed of words and that words are composed of syllables and letters
- Recognize that print has meaning
- Begin to recognize the sounds of the letters at the beginning, middle and end of simple words
- Begin to recognize differences in sounds and apply that awareness to distinguishing words when listening
- Begin to recognize relevant features of their language (i.e. tone, breathy vowels, heavy/light vowels)

Skills

- Recognize and produce letter shapes
- Understand and respond appropriately to what is heard
- Discuss the meaning of a simple story and express the opinion of a story
- Use pictures to communicate meaning
- Use writing to communicate meaning
- Recognize 5 sight words
- Show the directionality of print
- Begin to use increasingly complex words/vocabulary
- Begin to predict the outcome of a story
- Express opinions about a story

Attitudes

- Enjoy reading and writing, know that reading and writing is fun
- Appreciate the system of their language
- Appreciate their own creativity and the creativity of others

Contribution to the competencies:

- Critical thinking: Learners will use prediction skills, evaluating different ideas and opinions
- Communication: Reading and comprehending a story, speak clearly and communicate about the weather, communicating ideas through emergent creative writing, listening to and comprehending speech
- Co-operation: Working collaboratively and being tolerant of each other to write a story as a class, negotiating and respecting others in debate

Links to other subjects:

Science: Climate

Key Inquiry Questions

How can you predict what comes next in a story?

Key Learning Outcome

Begin to predict the outcome of a story.

Recognize sight words.

Story Time

As a class

Learners should be given opportunity to engage in “shared reading” with a story about weather in a Big Book. If a Big Book is not available, read the story from the Teachers Guide and ask the questions that follow. As you read the story, stop and ask the questions in the story.

(See Read Aloud Story below)

In groups

Make flashcards of 3 common words (for example, “the”, “a”, “and”). In groups, learners should match the cards to the where they see the words in the story. This activity should be done with the Big Book, or if no big book is available, the teacher should write part of the story on the board to do this activity with.

Key Inquiry Questions

How do you write the letters that have been taught?

How do we recognize parts of words?

Key Learning Outcome

Enjoy reading and writing, know that reading and writing is fun!

Use pictures to communicate meaning.

Experience Story

As a class

Take the learners outside, no matter what the weather! Ask the learners to describe how they feel when the sun or the wind or the rain hits their faces. Discuss how the weather might change and what that will feel like. Go through the steps to write a Language Experience Story (pg. 25) about the weather. Read the story using Shared Reading (pg. 24).

In groups

The teacher should make flash cards of 2 key “weather” words. Learners should match the cards to where they see the words in the story.

Individual work

Learners should draw their own picture to illustrate the story. As they are able, they can label their picture with one of the key words.

Unit 3 - Lesson 43

Learn about

Give opportunity for learners to hear a story about a cultivation using shared reading in a big book, for example, “The Little Red Hen” and retell the story using drama and role play. Learners should experience receiving and giving instructions on planting a garden and write a class story about this experience. Learners can use flashcards and pictures to match words with various plants. They should sort and categorize various types of seeds and work together with teachers to label the seeds. Learners can sing together a well-known song about plants and cultivation. Learners should explore the next 3 letters of their language through an ABC Book or similar language specific resource, and investigate words within sentences and syllables within words.

Key inquiry questions

- How do you write the letters that have been taught?
- Explore words that you can find the taught letters in.
- How do you give instructions for planting a garden?
- How can you predict what comes next in a story?
- What patterns of language are used in song?
- How can a story be retold using drama?

Learning outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

- Begin to recognize that sentences are composed of words and that words are composed of syllables and letters
- Recognize taught letters in words
- Recognize that print has meaning
- Begin to recognize the sounds of the letters at the beginning, middle and end of simple words
- Begin to recognize differences in sounds and apply that awareness to distinguishing words when listening
- Begin to recognize relevant features of their language (i.e. tone, breathy vowels, heavy/light vowels)

Skills

- Form letters that are clearly shaped and correctly oriented
- Express instructions clearly to another hearer
- Discuss the meaning of a simple story
- Use pictures to communicate meaning
- Use writing to communicate meaning
- Recognize a number of sight words
- Begin to use increasingly complex words/vocabulary
- Predict the outcome of a story
- Retell a story through drama
- Communicate meaning through simple words and phrases
- Begin to read and write simple texts with accuracy
- Build simple words from letters

Attitudes

- Enjoy reading and writing, know that reading and writing is fun
- Appreciate the system of their language
- Appreciate their own creativity and the creativity of others
- Enjoy seeing their own ideas expressed in written form

Contribution to the competencies:

- Critical thinking: Learners will use prediction skills, breaking an activity into logical steps
- Communication: Reading and comprehending a story, speak clearly and communicate about plants, giving and receiving instructions, listening to and comprehending speech
- Co-operation: Working collaboratively and being tolerant of each other to write a story as a class, responding to instructions, contribute to environmental sustainability
- Culture: Responding in a culturally appropriate way to instructions

Links to other subjects:

- Science and Agriculture: Cultivation

Key Learning Outcome
Retell a story through drama.

Key Inquiry Questions

How can a story be retold using drama?
How can you predict what comes next in a story?

Story Time

As a class

Learners should listen to the story of the “Little Red Hen”. As you read stop to ask, “What do you think will happen next? Why?”
(See Read Aloud Story below)

Point out to learners, this is a traditional story.

In groups

Learners should retell the story of the Little Red Hen, using role play. Each group can present their re-telling to the class.

Key Inquiry Questions

What patterns of language are used in song?

Key Learning Outcome

Use pictures to communicate meaning.

Appreciate the system of their language.

Song Time

As a class

Learners should sing a well-known song about plants and cultivation. The teacher can write a verse on the chalkboard for “shared reading” activities (pg. 24).

Individual work

Learners should be given different types of seeds that are used in the area. In their notebooks, they can draw which type of plant the seeds will grow into. Learners can share their pictures with the class and discuss what they have drawn. Write the names of the different types of seeds on the board help learners match the names with their seeds.

Highlight the letters and sounds learners have already learned.

As a Class

Make up a new song that uses some of the words about seeds that the class generated.

Give opportunity for learners to hear a story about plants in the forest using shared reading in a big book and explore appropriate language to describe the plants. They should be asked to imagine alternate endings to the story. Learners should discover the usefulness of some plants through listening to a guest speaker. They should work together to make a visual representation of what they learned about those plants, and display it in the classroom. Teachers should use descriptive language to tell the class about a specific plant. Learners should take turns guessing which plant the teacher is describing. Learners can then take turns describing and guessing other plants. Learners should explore the next 3 letters of their language through an ABC Book or similar language specific resource, and investigate words within sentences and syllables within words.

Key inquiry questions

- How do you write the letters that have been taught?
- Use appropriate language to describe plants.
- How can we listen and respond appropriately to a guest speaker?
- How can we visually represent what we learned about plants?
- Can you name plants that begin with the same sound?

Learning outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

- Begin to recognize that sentences are composed of words and that words are composed of syllables and letters
- Recognize newly taught letters in words
- Begin to recognize differences in sounds and apply that awareness to distinguishing words when listening
- Begin to recognize relevant features of their language (i.e. tone, breathy vowels, heavy/light vowels)

Skills

- Recognize and produce letter shapes
- Understand and respond appropriately to what is heard
- Discuss the meaning of a simple story and express opinions about it
- Use pictures to communicate meaning
- Use writing to communicate meaning
- Recognize a number of sight words
- Using increasingly complex words/vocabulary
- Predict the outcome of a story
- Recognize all the taught letters
- Begin to read and write simple texts with accuracy
- Build simple words from letters
- Convey meaning to listeners

Attitudes

- Enjoy reading and writing, know that reading and writing is fun
- Enjoy reading and writing about forest plants

Contribution to the competencies:

- Critical thinking: Learners will use prediction skills
- Communication: Reading and comprehending a story, speak clearly and communicate about plants, listening to and comprehending speech, using emergent writing to communicate ideas about plants
- Co-operation: Working collaboratively and being tolerant of each other to write a story as a class, contribute to environmental sustainability
- Culture: Build understanding of their heritage and traditional uses of plants

Links to other subjects:

- Science
Environment and Sustainability

Key Inquiry Questions

Can you use appropriate language to describe plants?

Key Learning Outcome

Discuss the meaning of a story and express opinions about it.

Use increasingly complex vocabulary.

Story Time

As a class

Learners should hear a story about plants in the forest. The learners should express their opinions about the story by answering the comprehension questions.

(See Read Aloud Story below)

In pairs

Learners should be asked to come up with different endings for the story and draw a picture of it. They can then share their alternative endings with another pair.

As a Class

Learners should be told to prepare for a guest speaker the following week. Ask them to prepare questions to ask the speaker about plants in the forest.

Key Inquiry Questions

How can you describe and categorize the roles of family members?

Key Learning Outcome

Recognize, understand and read out familiar words in simple contexts related to family.

Talk about matters of immediate interest.

Story Time

As a class

Learners should hear a story about a family. The learners should express their opinions about the story by answering the comprehension questions. The teacher can write some of the family work on the board. (See Read Aloud Story below)

Individual work

Based on what was written on the board in Story Time, write simple sentences on the board, for example:

My ____ looks after the animals.

My ____ brings water.

My ____ washes clothes.

My ____ cooks food.

My ____ protects us.

My ____, ____, ____ loves me!

Write one or two as a demonstration.

Learners can use their notebooks to fill in the family member who does the various roles in the family.

Key Learning Outcome

Respond to patterns in language.

Enjoy expressing themselves through poetry and music.

Key Inquiry Questions

How can we use body language to communicate meaning?

How can you describe your family using poetry and song?

Guess Who?

In groups

Using the phrases written in Lesson 73, learners can play “charades”. Each individual will silently read one of the phrases and then act out (role play) what they have read. The rest of the group should guess what family role they are acting out.

Pair work

Based on the family roles they have acted out, pairs can create their own song. Learners should accompany the song with related actions.

Keji ko a ɲa?

Learn about

Give opportunity for learners to hear a story about friends using shared reading in a big book. Learners should do a role-play in small groups, imagining they are characters from the story. Give opportunity for learners to tell a story about their friends and explore appropriate language to describe the level of friendships/emotion

Learners can be given opportunity to analyze some well-known proverbs / rhymes about friendship. These proverbs / rhymes can be written on the board for shared reading. Learners can work in groups to discuss what they learn about friendship from the proverbs.

Learners should be given opportunity to write creatively about their best friend.

Learners should explore the next 3 letters of their language through an ABC Book or similar language specific resource, and should investigate words within sentences and syllables within words.

Key inquiry questions

Proverbs

As a class

Think of 2 – 3 short, traditional proverbs on the topic of “friendship”. Starting with the first one, write it on the blackboard. Do Shared Reading activities as on pg. 24. Then do the same with the other proverbs. List key themes of friendship that come out of the proverbs.

In pairs

Learners should find a classmate whose name begins with the same sound as their own. Using the list of friendship themes, learners should create their own proverbs about friendship.

Observation

During shared reading, are learners engaged and able to follow along? Can they recognize sight words from the flashcards?

Conversation

Did learners find a partner with a matching sound in their names? As they are discussing the proverbs, do they understand their meanings and their uses?

Unit 7 - Lesson 101

Learn about

Give opportunity for learners to hear a story about hygiene and resulting diseases using shared reading in a big book. Learners should be given opportunity to work in pairs to sequence pictures from the story. Learners should be given opportunity to sing a well-known song about the parts of the body and hygiene. Learners should work together to create a poster with the parts of the body from the song labelled on it. Learners should ask and answer where, when, what, why, how questions about the poster and song. After listening to the song, learners can discuss in pairs and draw pictures about hygiene and how to avoid disease. Learners should be given opportunity to present their ideas to the class. Learners should expand their vocabulary, learning new words about hygiene and parts of the body using flashcards and the body poster. Learners should explore the next 3 letters of their language through an ABC Book or similar language specific resource, and investigate words within sentences and syllables within words.

Key inquiry questions

- How do you write the letters that have been taught?
- How can we communicate causes of disease and prevention through pictures or actions?
- Can you describe ways of keeping your body clean using appropriate language?
- How can pictures be sequenced to describe a logical process?

Learning outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

- Recognize that sentences are composed of words and that words are composed of syllables and letters
- Recognize taught letters in words
- Recognize the sounds of the letters at the beginning, middle and end of simple words
- Recognize differences in sounds and apply that awareness to distinguishing words when listening
- Recognize relevant features of their language (i.e. tone, breathy vowels, heavy/light vowels)

Skills

- Form letters that are clearly shaped and correctly oriented
- Discuss the meaning of a simple story and give their opinion on it
- Use pictures to communicate meaning
- Communicate meaning through simple words and phrases
- Recognize a number of sight words related to hygiene
- Begin to use increasingly complex words/vocabulary
- Predict the outcome of a story
- Respond to patterns in language
- Talk about matters of immediate interest

Attitudes

- Enjoy reading and writing, know that reading and writing is fun
- Appreciate the system of their language
- Enjoy seeing their own ideas expressed in written form
- Enjoy expressing themselves through music

Contribution to the competencies:

- Critical thinking: Analyze information, suggest solutions to problems of hygiene
- Communication: Reading and comprehending a story, speak clearly and communicate about hygiene, listening to and comprehending speech, using emergent writing to communicate ideas about hygiene
- Co-operation: Working collaboratively and being tolerant of each other to create a poster about body parts and hygiene, and to communicate their ideas about hygiene and how to avoid disease
- Culture: Adapting traditional hygiene practices

Links to other subjects:

- Music and Arts: Singing songs about hygiene
- Science: Learning about hygiene

Key Learning Outcome
Predict the outcome of a story.

Key Inquiry Questions

How can pictures be sequenced to describe a logical process

How can you communicate causes of disease and prevention through pictures and actions?

Story Time

As a class

Learners should listen to the true story of Moses, about the causes and effects of good hygiene. During the story, the teacher should stop to ask learners what they think will come next. Answer comprehension questions.

In pairs

Using the pictures in their textbooks, learners should work together to re-tell the story and put the pictures in the right order.

Key Inquiry Questions

Can you describe ways of keeping your body clean using appropriate language?

Key Learning Outcome

Enjoy expressing themselves through music.

Respond to patterns in language.

Song Time

As a class

Think of a well-known song in your language about the parts of the body (for example, the English “head and shoulders knees and toes”). After singing the song, discuss all the ways we keep those parts of our bodies clean.

In groups

Learners can work in small groups to create a poster, labelling the different parts of the body. For each body part, learners should discuss what the parts are, and how and why we keep them clean.

Key Inquiry Questions

How do you write the letters that have been taught?

Key Learning Outcome

Recognize a number of sight words related to hygiene.

True Writing

Individual work

From what they have learned from the true story about Moses, the song and posters, learners should choose one aspect of keeping their bodies clean that they would like to express their ideas about. Using their poster from week 23, write a sentence about why they should keep that part of the body clean.

In groups

Learners can share their work with each other in small groups. In the groups, learners should discuss the different sentences and put them in order of most to least important. There is not one answer only. The discussion is more important.

Learners can compare and contrast their own traditions / celebrations with what is described in the story. A visitor can be invited into the class to show them how to make traditional instruments. Learners can follow instructions to make their own instruments using locally available materials. Learners will then be given opportunity to prepare songs and dances used in different cultural celebrations such as planting, hunting, naming, marriage etc. Each group can share their song with the other groups. Learners should work together as a class to write one of the songs on the board to use for shared reading and flash card activities. Give learners opportunity to individually draw pictures of traditional dress / costume / body decoration which is used for their favourite cultural celebration. Learners can then share their pictures with the group.		Key inquiry questions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• How do you write the letters that have been taught?</li> <li>• How is language used effectively in songs for cultural celebrations?</li> <li>• How can you use different channels to communicate messages?</li> <li>• How do you respond appropriately to instructions?</li> </ul>

Key Inquiry Questions

How can you use different channels to communicate messages?

Key Learning Outcome

Use increasingly complex vocabulary.

Recognize, understand and read out familiar words in simple contexts.

Guess What?

As a class

Learners should do “shared reading” with a story about a cultural celebration in a Big Book (or from the board). Learners should discuss with each other how their own cultural celebrations are the same or different from what they read in the story. (See Read Aloud Story below)

In Groups

Learners should write their favourite aspect of a cultural celebration on a flashcard. Individuals can then draw a flashcard and describe what’s on the card without saying the word. Group members guess what the word is.

Individual Work

Learners should think of a question they would like to ask a visitor next week about cultural musical instruments.

Key Learning Outcome
Understand and respond appropriately to what is heard.

Key Inquiry Questions

How do you respond appropriately to instructions?

Experience Story

As a class

Invite a local musical instrument maker to the class. He should show the class, step by step, how to make a simple instrument. Learners should be given opportunity to ask questions about the process and about the work of the instrument maker.

Individual work

Using locally available resources, learners can follow step-by-step instructions from the guest speaker to make their own simple instruments. As learners make their instruments, they can begin to note down the different steps in their notebooks as they are able.

These instruments need to be kept for activities in Lesson 126.

Unit 9 - Lesson 130

Learn about

Give opportunity for learners to hear a story using shared reading in a big book about games and sport and explore the topic through various activities and literacy games. Learners should be given opportunity to play a game together. They should then work together to write a list of the rules on the board and do shared reading with the finished list. The learners should be given opportunity to explore procedural text by ordering / sequencing the list of rules. Learners should creatively write and illustrate about their favourite game / sport. The learners should share their writing with the class. They can then choose a game / sport to play as a class and practice recording the scores for each team. Learners should be given opportunity to work in groups to invent a new kind of game / sport. They could then orally explain the game to the class and show to them how to play it. Learners should expand their vocabulary, learning new words related to sport, explore the next 3 letters of their language using the ABC Book or other similar language specific resource, and investigate words within sentences and syllables within words.

Key inquiry questions

- How do you write the letters that have been taught?
- How can you articulate and sequence the rules of a game?
- How are questions framed correctly?
- How can you create or invent your own game?

Learning outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

- Recognize that sentences are composed of words and that words are composed of syllables and letters
- Recognize the sounds of the letters at the beginning, middle and end of simple words
- Recognize differences in sounds and apply that awareness to distinguishing words when listening
- Begin to recognize relevant features of their language (i.e. tone, breathy vowels, heavy/light vowels)

Skills

- Form letters that are clearly shaped and correctly oriented
- Discuss the meaning of a simple story and give their opinion on it
- Use pictures to communicate meaning
- Communicate meaning through simple words and phrases
- Learn to write a new genre – rules of a game
- Recognize and read out familiar words in simple contexts
- Use increasingly complex words/vocabulary
- Predict the outcome of a story

Attitudes

- Enjoy reading and writing, know that reading and writing is fun
- Appreciate the system of their language
- Enjoy seeing their own ideas expressed in written form

Contribution to the competencies:

Critical thinking: Sorting and ordering the rules of the games, using imagination to create new games/sports

Communication: Reading and comprehending a story, speak clearly and communicate about games and sports, listening to and comprehending speech, using emergent writing to communicate ideas about games and sport

How do you describe that tool?

Key Learning Outcome

Enjoy seeing their own ideas expressed in written and modelled form.

Tool Time!

In pairs

Learners should talk about an idea they have for a tool that can make some of their work easier. They can then use available materials to make a model of that tool. They should give their tool a name and make a sign for it, explaining what how it works. Each pair can then display their model tools for the rest of the class.

ASSESSMENT OPPORTUNITY

Product

Look at the signs made for each tool. Have the learners communicated their ideas about how the tools work and what problem the tools are meant to solve? Have they been creative in their projects?

Observation

While learners look at the different projects, are they able to read the explanations and understand the use of the tools? Do they appreciate the contributions of their classmates?
